Subject: Shinglemill

Good Afternoon,

I am sending this email to express my frustration with Coneco, the engineers for Shinglemill. The response letter sent regarding the Fire Prevention features required for Shinglemill is not a response at all. Addressing these items through the final design is not acceptable to the Rockland Fire Department. We are looking for responses that the Code requirements and those requirements of the Authority Having Jurisdiction (AHJ) will be met. I have reviewed multiple sets of plans, had multiple conversations with engineers and have never been questioned about the requirements. The response letter makes it appear as though we are starting from the beginning and no Fire Prevention matters were ever discussed.
